ISE IV – Sample interactive prompts

The examiner will introduce the Interactive phase by saying:

'In this task, I'll start by telling you something. You'll have to ask me questions to find out more information and make comments. It's your responsibility to maintain the conversation. Are you ready?'

ISE IV language functions:

- Asserting
 - Denying
 - Softening and downplaying propositions
 - Contradicting
 - Implying
 - Affirming
1. The concept of a world without borders may seem like an impossible dream, but I feel it's one that's worth pursuing.
 2. One effect of increased globalisation is that minority languages are gradually becoming extinct. Many people regret this, but I'm not sure it's such a bad thing.
 3. Some people claim that sensationalist journalism simply reflects a society and doesn't shape it. I wonder if that really is the case.
 4. Some schools encourage competitiveness in their students, while others generally discourage it. It's clearly a controversial issue.
 5. It's often said that there should be no limits to the activities of the press even when it comes to people's private lives. I couldn't agree more.
